WHO?

Andrew Farrell, Katelyn Hollins, Evy Nye, Jo Street, Will Thatcher, Chenneth Weeraratne on stage directed by Sue Lindsay

WHAT?

'The Web' is a contemporary drama by actor / playwright, Kate Mulvany. Set in an Australian country town, it deals with modern day issues including the seductive power of the internet, family relationships, friendship, social isolation, suicide, grief and resilience.

WHEN?

27 April - 5 May at 8pm Fridays, Saturdays and Wednesday 2 May
Matinées 2pm Sunday 29 April and Saturday 5 May

WHERE?

Foster War Memorial Arts Centre, 79 Main Street, Foster

WHY?

The talented cast, the costumes, the scenery, the makeup, the lights . . . This play is an intriguing mixture of magic realism and psychological thriller, designed to be thought provoking, informative and, above all, entertaining. The subject matter is dark but there are many humorous moments as we see each of the characters striving to find love in various ways.

HOW?

Book your tickets online via famda.org.au or trybooking.com/VAHI
Visit Main Street Revelations, 31 Main St., Foster
Phone 5682 1381

HOW MUCH?

$25 Adults, $20 Concession Wednesday 2 May - $18 all tickets

WHAT ELSE?

'The Web' contains adult themes, some violence and coarse language. Adults will be attracted by the play's universal themes and our brilliant cast. 'The Web' is suited to senior high school students. Also suggested for younger secondary school students with parental guidance.

IN THE FAMDA PIPELINE @ Foster War Memorial Arts Centre

Saturday 28 July - A wonderful evening of musical fun & games à la Spicks & Specks

Weekend 25 & 26 August - 18th Bendigo Bank South Gippsland One Act Play Festival

Saturday 27 October - FAMDA 65 birthday / Fiddler party

In 1993 FAMDA took a bold step into the world of semi-professional theatre and engaged Neil Goodwin to direct a production of Fiddler on the Roof.

25 years on and that show is still attracting favourable comments from those who were part of it and those who came to see it.

On May 18th FAMDA will hold a reunion of all who played a part in bringing Fiddler to the Foster stage.

If you appeared on stage, worked backstage or front of house, built and painted sets, constructed costumes, you are invited to the home of Robert and Dianne Paragreen from 7.30 p.m. to reminisce and reconnect.

During the evening some recording of peoples' memories of that wonderful show might take place. This will assist the FAMDA committee to showcase the production at the 65th Anniversary celebrations of FAMDA which will take place on 27th October.

At those celebrations some excerpts from the show will be presented.
